

CHRONICLE MONTHLY

SEPTEMBER 2020: VOLUME 15, EDITION 14

REMINDERS

⇒ STUDENT OF THE YEAR AND
CHAPTER OF THE YEAR
AWARD NOMINATIONS
OPEN NOW!

CONTACT

aawdchronicle@gmail.com

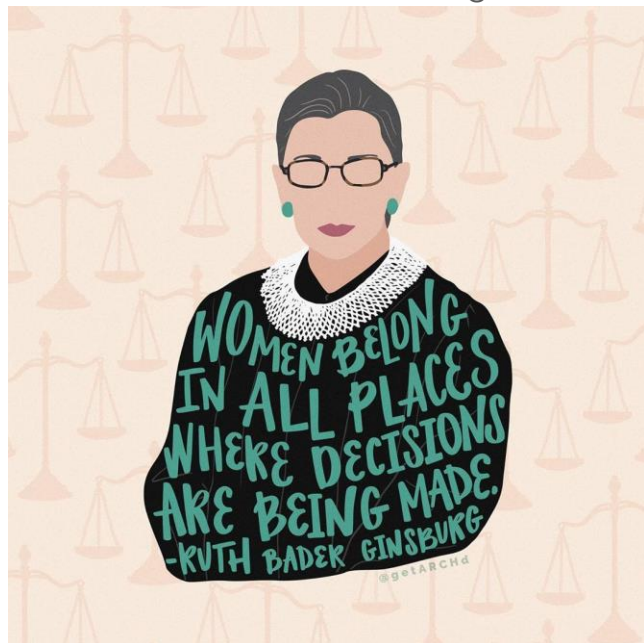

@womendentists

www.aawd.org

Hey Lady Dentist!

This edition we remember an American heroine:
Ruth Bader Ginsberg

Much like Lucy Hobbs Taylor, Ruth Bader Ginsberg paved the way for women in the world. Graduating as the only female in her law class from Cornell she was a civil rights activist who was appointed to the US Supreme Court in 1993. She attended the Benco Dental Lucy Hobbs Project Celebration in 2019 to celebrate women in dentistry.

The world mourns the loss of a great woman.

Rest in Peace and Power, RBG.

Congratulations to the Centennial Lucy Hobbs Taylor Winner

Dr. Gayle Glenn became active with the AAWD in her early years in school joining the newly formed Student Chapter of the Texas Association of Women Dentists.

Dr. Glenn earned her dental degree at the University of Texas Dental School at San Antonio in 1982. She completed a Master of Science Degree and a Certificate in Orthodontics from Baylor College of Dentistry in 1984, where she was the fourth woman to graduate from that program since it began in 1961. Dr. Glenn, active in women leadership issues, was appointed to the Texas Dental Association's Council on Membership in 1997, where her work to increase involvement of female and minority dentists at the state level continued. She was recognized by the Dallas County Dental Society with their 2018 Lifetime Achievement Award.

Dr. Glenn served as the first female president of the American Association of Orthodontists (AAO) in 2013-14. She represented the Southwestern Society of Orthodontists (SWSO) on the AAO Board of Trustees from 2004-2012 and was the first woman to serve in that elected leadership position. Additionally, she is a past president of the SWSO and the Texas Association of Orthodontists (TAO). Dr. Glenn is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics and in 2019 received the Trailblazer Award for the Texas Orthodontic Study Club, in recognition of being the first female member of that elite orthodontic group.

Early in her career, she joined the orthodontic faculty at Baylor College of Dentistry, teaching part-time as a Clinical Assistant Professor from 1988 to 1995. In 2016, returned to part-time teaching as an Adjunct Clinical Professor in the Department of Orthodontics at Texas A&M University College of Dentistry. In 2018, she was honored with the H. Eldon Attaway Award, which is given to an outstanding part-time faculty member. Starting January 2020, she assumed the position of Assistant Clinical Professor and Graduate Orthodontic Clinical Director. Dr. Glenn is currently teaching 30 hours (75% FT) while continuing in her practice part time.

About the Award

The Lucy Hobbs Taylor Award is the highest honor given by the AAWD and was first presented in 1983 honoring Lucy Hobbs Taylor for being the first woman to earn a doctorate in dentistry. AAWD presents this award to a member who exemplifies a true professional with accomplishment in one or more areas of dentistry, organized dentistry, academia, government, anthropology, archeology, philanthropy, and consulting. With at least 10 years membership in AAWD and a career as a licensed dentist for 20 years or more, the recipient demonstrates a record of mentoring women dentists and/or service to organizations that further the cause of women in dentistry. AAWD will officially present the award to Dr. Glenn during AAWD's 100th Anniversary Award Ceremony on April 21, 2021.

UPDATES

Our website has been updated!

More questions?

Email info@aawd.org

Please update your member profile online to keep us all up to date

- Dr. Daly and Dr. Arguelles met with student chapter presidents to discuss the new school protocols and foster creative thinking for virtual get togethers and fundraisers.
 - Over 40 attendees brainstormed ideas with a popular one being helping dental school classmates register to vote!
- Dr. Maranga met with residents in New York to discuss concerns of returning to clinic during COVID and the anticipation of a vaccine.
 - Residents had concerns over the effectiveness of a new vaccine and receiving it as a healthcare provider among non-healthcare family members.
- Planning the 2021 SAILIBRATION is in full-swing, we encourage all members to attend this landmark event to celebrate 100 years of women in dentistry.
 - Please email with any questions or concerns. Trip-protection insurance is available.
- Do you follow AAWD on social media? Request to join our members-only Facebook group discussion. Share our Instagram posts on your story or your timeline!
 - Follow @womendentists on Instagram.

